founding member of the Pakistan Institute of Corporate Governance (PICG), an organization dedicated to providing corporate governance practices in Pakistan. Through its collaboration with PICG and other relevant stakeholders, he is committed to the advancement of corporate governance standards and practices

A company secretary is a senior position in the corporate governance of organisations, playing a crucial role in ensuring adherence to statutory and regulatory requirements. The Companies Act, 2017 defines Company secretary as any individual recognizing a body of corporate governance practices that has helped to bridge a mature degree in Business Administration and a graduate from the University recognized by higher Education Council of Pakistan (HEC) within three years relevant experience.

The Chairman or secretary of a single member company shall be a member of the Board of Directors from a university recognized by the higher Education Council.

Chairman and Secretary: The roles and responsibilities of a Chairman and Secretary are categorized under the following:

- The Chairman shall be the primary person to produce company's secretary in Pakistan.
- The Secretary of Pakistan (CSP) has been committed for developing the profession, emphasizing the role of the secretary in implementing corporate governance standards and instituting a system of corporate transparency within organizations.
- The Secretary is responsible for shaping the landscape of corporate governance and sectoral practices in Pakistan.
- The company's secretary for regulatory compliance shall be a member of the company's system for regulatory compliance and shall be an essential factor for effective board performance where the awareness of key issues play a vital role in the decision making process of the key components of good governance.
- The company secretary is responsible to the Board of Directors collectively, and not to any individual member of the Board. This reporting line is through the Chairman. Moreover, the company secretary reports to the company's chairman separately.

Thus, the key roles of a company secretary are:

- maintain the company statutory registers and records;
- advise the shareholder and director meetings;
- ensure the company complies with the timely filing requirements as required by the law;
- ensure the company is up to speed in conducting, holding and preparing of meetings (shareholder, board of directors and general meetings).
